

Invitation

to

Participate in Freedom Flag Parade

March 8, 2010

Dear Friend,

More than thirty-four years has passed since April 30, 1975—the fateful day that forced millions of Vietnamese to separate from their motherland and to flee the oppressive Communist regime in search of freedom. Since that time, our golden flag with three red stripes—the sacred symbol for the spirit, resilience and strength of the Vietnamese people—has been brought along with us, protected, nurtured and now has grown strong from all corners of the world.

More than 100 Vietnamese Freedom Flag Resolutions from cities to states across the United States and all over the world have been adopted. Our golden flag with three red stripes is officially recognized and honored as the Vietnamese Freedom and Heritage Flag of the Vietnamese people everywhere.

This historic event was not just accomplished overnight, but it was indeed the result of untold self-sacrifices, time and efforts, sweat and tears that our parent generation has put forth and is continuing to do for all the things that our Vietnamese Freedom Flag truly represents: PRIDE and CULTURE.

The Vietnamese Spring Festival and Parade will organize the 13th annual Spring Festival and Parade 2010 to be held:

Time: 11:00AM on Sunday, March 28, 2010

Location: Market Street, downtown San Jose

Being part of the future generation of Vietnamese-Americans, we are proud to take part in honoring and promoting our Viet Pride and Culture by participating in the Vietnamese freedom flag parade.

As we are welcoming our Vietnamese New Year, the Year of the Tiger, it is befitting that we come together to celebrate our heritage, culture, and traditions. We truly hope that you can join us and participate in our Vietnamese freedom flag parade.

Once again, we are earnestly asking for your helping hand and participation in this wonderful tradition.

Thank you for your support and participation!
